Gundecha's influence:

I joined Gundecha Education Academy in 2005 and passed out in 2010. They were some of the most precious years of my life. Gundecha has gone beyond academics and taught me deeper values in life; I have learnt to be empathetic and warm from Vanashree ma'am when she wiped my tears in 6th standard; I have learnt the importance of having fun while learning new things from Shashikant sir when we would learn physics but go and play on the ground every alternate week; I have learnt the importance of living a healthy life from Jasbir ma'am when she would shout at us in her endearing way if we wouldn't have had breakfast; I have learnt how the cure to most of our problems is some laughter and good friendship from LaxmiDidi who left us very early but everybody who knew her could vouch for her beautiful soul; I have learnt how one might not always get what they wish for and our life plans might turn upside down but it's always our choice to be happy and spread that happiness around from Meenakshi ma'am; I have learnt to laugh at myself and be a sport and love the way I am from Shraboni ma'am; I have learnt no matter how free-spirited one is, a little discipline can go a long way from Sonu ma'am; I have learnt how to lose gracefully and celebrate our victories humbly from Govind sir who would be there with us in all our throw ball matches- through the wins and the losses; I have learnt how strong humans can be in the face of life and never give up from our beloved Seema Ma'am. Gundecha has given me some of the most important friendships and some invaluable learnings. It has contributed tremendously in making me the person I am by setting great examples to look up to.

Gundecha's influence

Gundecha Education Academy has helped me develop a key skill - business development nurtured by providing hands on experience with organizing events under the Alumni banner. While being from Gundecha Education Academy makes me proud, the nature of interactions and the development during one of the important phases of a child's life (i.e. during 8th - 12th) has also taught us the importance of humility.

Gundecha's Influence: I started studying in Gundecha since its inception in 2004. This school has given me a lot in the 7 years that I was there. From great teachers, mentors, peers, juniors, seniors and most importantly – friends. I made some really great friends who still are in contact and are supportive of all the things that I have pursued since passing out in 2011. We are each other's support systems and if any problem arises, I know they will always be there for me. A school should not only focus on academics but also extra-curricular activities. Subjects like art, music, drama etc. helped me gain creative knowledge along with academic knowledge. Hence today in my field of work which is marketing and advertising, all this knowledge was like a dive in the ocean of creativity. If it wasn't for Gundecha, I wouldn't have known anything about things and careers other than the popular ones like engineering or medicine.

Gundecha's influence: I am what I am because of GEA, each day in GEA since 2004, has been a new learning, academics or extra curricular, everything now seems to be very important. Today, when someone asks me, where did you learn all this skill, my answer is simply Gundecha Education Academy. My journey as a student, as the president of the alumni, has been just filled with excitement and new learnings. Now when I'm representing India for cooking, i remember each and every lesson taught, inside or outside class. Everything just comes into my mind. I wouldn't have been what i am if I didn't be a part of GEA. Thanks to all the teachers, Sonu Ma'am and most importantly Seema ma'am, who guided me at every difficult decision of my life.

27. Salonie Muralidhara

Job title: Research Officer at International.

Company: Labour Organization in Geneva

Gundecha's influence:

Gundecha, for me, has been a big block of the base structure on which I built everything else. My teachers always pushed me to do better, strive for more -- they believed in me, perhaps, more than I even did. And with this push came constant, unwavering support. At Gundecha, I was never afraid. And that stayed with me, made me reach for things that seemed beyond my capacity.

Educational Qualifications

28.Saurabh Kishan

Job title: Pursuing B.tech Civil

Gundecha's influence: A building remains intact for centuries if its foundation is strong. In my case GEA acted as foundation on which my carrier stands upon. My school experience shaped my understanding and preparation for the future . Interacting with students helped me broaden my thoughts, improved my communication skills. The school environments introduced me to diverse opinions and practices to support understanding differences in our society. This shaped my value of diversity today and my interest in higher education. I greatly appreciate my experience with the teachers. In addition to teaching in their subject areas, they often shared insights about life. Those included the importance of collaborating with others, building moral values, teamwork, self-respect. They helped in setting goal and achieving it.

Gundecha's influence: Gundecha laid the foundation for my interest in architecture. If it was not for the proper guidance and the availability of various subjects (especially technical drawing) to choose from, I would never have been at the place where I am today. The appreciation that I receive today is because of the command I have over my subjects. Hence I thank all the faculty members of Gundecha for being the building blocks in my career.
